Manually record a publication in ZORA

- Log in to ZORA and access «My ZORA».

- Click on the «+» button

- Select your institute/clinic (if you have set a favourite collection, your institute/clinic will be displayed at the top of the list).

Manually record a publication in ZORA

- In the "Type" section, select the publication type.

- In the «Upload files» section, you can add a PDF of the publication (published version or accepted manuscript) using «drag & drop».

- Complete the mandatory fields, which are marked with an asterisk (*).

Manually record a publication in ZORA

- In the «Deposit licence» section, select the box «I confirm the license above»

Deposit license

Submission Agreement for Zurich Open Repository and Archive (ZORA)

By self-archiving this collection of files and associated bibliographic metadata, I grant Zurich Open Repository and Archive (ZORA) the right to store them and make them permanently and freely available online to the public.

I acknowledge that the ZORA editorial team may temporarily or permanently restrict access to the full text (PDF) based on copyright and embargo conditions.

Specific Requirements for Dissertations and Master's Theses:

Dissertations and master's theses are included in ZORA under the following conditions:

- The content quality check has been successfully completed by the supervisor.

- A plagiarism check has been carried out and appropriate measures to avoid plagiarism have been taken: Plagiarism Check

☑ I confirm the license above

Manually record a publication in ZORA

At the bottom of the submission form, it is possible to:

- Discard = deletes the entry

- Save = saves and remains in the form (it has an auto-save function, saving automatically every minute)

- Save for later = saves and closes the form (entry can be edited again later)

- Deposit = sends the record to the review process